STEPHENS ON THE POTTER RESOLUTION

He Explains his own Action —Opposes the Mexicanization of our Republic

Alexander H Stephens has replied to allusions to him contained in the letter of Mr Clarkson N Potter in a communication to the Washington Post which is given below

NATIONAL HOTEL May [illegible]

[illegible] in the issue [illegible] report [illegible] of Clarkson N Potter [illegible] cuts in relation to the passage of his resolution in regard to the appointment of a committee to investigate the fraud in the presidential election [illegible] which [illegible] notice by me so far as the letter relates to me and my [illegible] further [illegible] this in time will be [illegible] as possible and with all due respect to Mr Potter [illegible] for him personally I entertain sentiments of high esteem. That portion of his letter to which I wish chiefly to reply is contained in the following words expressed by him to his correspondent

You ask me why Mr Stephens was howled down. It is owing was by the newspapers. I interrupt. He [illegible] order [illegible] no [illegible] or state [illegible] ment [illegible] unanimous consent and every member has the absolute right to object to interruption. This objection is expressed by the words I object or a demand for regular order Sometimes one person will prevent interruption Sometimes many desire to prevent it generally and then the cry of regular order will be from many persons It so happened that there was a very general unwillingness to hear Mr Stephens He had suggested we should receive and adopt the Hale amendment. It was reported he had given the Republicans a list of 22 names who would follow him in any motion of his to prevent investigation About this he was grossly mistaken and has made our side especially unwilling to hear him but you will observe that when I rose to make a proposition to Mr Hale and the Republicans the outcry prevented my being heard It was announced by the press that Mr Potter's inquiry was interrupted while Mr Stephens was howled as the venerable statesman howled down by Potter's mob

My comments upon this extract from his letter are First if there was any gross mistake in this matter it was by Mr Potter and not by me So far as his statement is calculated to convey the idea or impression that I had given Republicans a list of any names who would follow me in any motion to prevent investigation it is entirely without foundation As a matter of truth it has not the shadow of fact to rest upon I had not conferred directly or indirectly with Mr Hale Mr Garfield or any other Republican upon the subject I had not spoken directly or indirectly with Mr Hale within the last two weeks before upon any subject nor had I any words with Mr Garfield upon this matter except what were made some weeks before when he objected to the reception of the Maryland memorial at which time I urged him in the house to withdraw his objection and let this memorial of the state go to the committee on judiciary and be reported upon with the view of quieting all questions attaching to the presidential title My speech upon that occasion and my appeal to him was duly reported in the Record nor had I at any time any conference with the president as I have seen alleged in some papers upon this subject On the Monday that the Potter resolutions were offered I had appeared in the house solely with the view of getting a suspension of the rules for the purpose of having passed the bill of the committee on coinage providing for the retirement of the 3 and 5 cent pieces and having them recoined in other denominations The bill upon being read was almost unanimously passed I then got leave of absence for one week on account of my health with a pair It was not until next day that I knew of what had occurred in the house after I left Mr Potter himself was one of the first whom I conferred with on the subject. Wednesday the 15th after the house had come to a dead lock I addressed to Mr Potter the following note

MY DEAR SIR I greatly regret I cannot go and see you in person Let me then say to you in this way that I think it will be a great mistake if our friends in the house shall pass your resolution under the previous question thus cutting out Mr Hale s or other amendments looking to an enlarged investigation Do not insist on the previous question I could not vote for it if I were present and were not paired as I am nor could I vote for the resolution under the previous question without allowing the amendments It would only divide the Democracy and unite the Republicans My opinion is that mischief instead of good will come of an investigation by the passage of your resolution as it did under previous action

Very respectfully ALEX H STEPHENS

I looked upon the proceedings as fraught with mischief I was against a one sided investigation and any investigation having in view the impeachment of the president My object in asking to be heard for three minutes was to appeal to the house to vote down the previous question and allow any Republican to offer any amendment they might see fit Mr Potter says he refused Hale s amendment because it was not germane Why it was not germane I cannot see All frauds are of a kindred character If a fraudulent electoral count in Florida was germane a like fraudulent count in Oregon or any other state is equally germane to the proposition to investigate frauds Mr Potter insists that the object was not and is not to attack the title of Mr Hayes If so why did he not allow Mr Casey Young s amendment to go in which distinctly stated that the object was not to disturb the title of the present executive I look upon the whole of this proceeding concerted as it was and conducted as it has been as most unwise and unfortunate and most mischievous Its effect will be to disturb the peace and harmony and quiet of the country I say to Mr Potter that nothing short of an immediate general and firm concert of action of Republicans and Democrats in reprobation of this investigation proceedings and further with a view to disturb the presidential title can arrest the most fearful consequences My opinion is that this affair will prove in the end either a contemptible farce or a horrible tragedy It will lead to the Mexicanization of our federal republic The idea that Mr Hayes can be peaceably unseated by congress is delusive and as guileful as the whisperings of the great arch fiend in the shape of a toad in the ear of Eve from which sprang all our woes

STATE EXPENDITURES

PORTLAND May [illegible] 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The Standard this morning, in a leading editorial referring to Mr Mallory s speech at New Market theater comparing the expenditures of Woods and Grover s administrations states with unblushing effrontery that " a greater part of the Grover expenditure was made in paying off debts contracted by the Republican administration The italics are the Standard s and not mine It is safe to say that the writer of that article has not examined the official reports of our state officers or he would not have made such a terrible blunder

Men of ordinary intelligence who are not connected with partisan papers have read and examined carefully the financial condition of our state and realize the fact that the exhibit made by Mr Mallory and which is in the hands of intelligent voters is true in every particular

Not [illegible] that of the sum of $ 614 [illegible] 30 the excess of Grover's expenditures in four years was paid on account of [illegible] It is claimed by this remarkable [illegible] that [illegible] administration [illegible] less than that of Gov Woods Had he [illegible] this article been a [illegible] that the citizens of [illegible] are paying a special tax of [illegible] statutes

[illegible] Mr Mallory [illegible] showed [illegible] hone[illegible] in [illegible] to [illegible] those who use doctored campaign [illegible] ment.

Now the situation of the [illegible] at this [illegible] publication [illegible] just such [illegible] [illegible] that an [illegible] the [illegible] I am [illegible] document [illegible] to [illegible] readily [illegible] that it [illegible] state [illegible] current expenses alone $ 614 2 30 more than [illegible] under Gov Woods Let me [illegible] that not one dollar of this amount was expended on [illegible] the Woods indebtedness or for the state house or new penitentiary

SUNDAY NOTICES

Ministers of many churches in Chicago made an agreement not to have their pulpit notices printed in the Sunday morning dailies and proceeded to furnish them on Friday to go into the Sunday papers but the publishers held them over till Saturday So another meeting of the ministers was held at which the following resolution was adopted

Resolved That we request the managers of the Times and the Tribune to publish our pulpit notices in their Saturday issues instead of Sunday These notices being news items to which the people are entitled and which the papers are expected to furnish we will send in our notices on Friday and request that they be not published on the Sabbath day

The Times when its attention was called to the above met it with the following rejoinder

Resolved That clergymen be requested not to read any religious or other announcements from their pulpits on the Sabbath day but that all such notices being news items to which the people are entitled be posted in a conspicuous place at or near the front door of the church, between the hours of 6 A M and 6 P M on Saturday to the end that the Lord s day may not be desecrated

There has been earnest not to say excited discussion in Chicago over this subject and though it is a small matter any way we are not sure but the Times has the best of it

Nez Perces Want to Return.

[Washington Special May 17]

Chief Joseph and his tribe of Nez Perces Indians now prisoners of war at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas have sent to the president through Gen Saxton of the army an application to be removed and transferred back to their old agency in Oregon They claim that their war against the United States was provoked and that it was conducted on their part according to the rules of civilized warfare They recall the facts that they took no scalps that they buried the dead that fell into their hands according to the civilized mode that they treated their prisoners with generosity and that they did nothing except defend themselves against the military and when they surrendered it was unconditional and with the intention of remaining forever the peaceful subjects of their conquerors This petition was discussed at a cabinet meeting to day and favorably considered It was originally the intention to locate Chief Joseph and his men in the Indian territory but the senate struck out of the Indian appropriation bill the provision for their removal Secretary McCrary intends to tempt some of the Nez Perces young men away from their tribe by offering to educate them at Hampton University Va

Blaine Accused of Straddling.

[From the Chicago Tribune]

Mr Blaine has now straddled (1) The silver question (2) the Halifax award question (3) the timber stealing question (4) the tariff question (5) the bankrupt repeal question (6) the Pacific railroad question There are several questions yet to hear from and we feel authorized to say that Mr Blaine will straddle them severally as they approach him He is now engaged in meeting questions in this manner and unless some mishap befalls him he will clear the entire field of economics and politics before harvest His conduct is supposed to be prudent and statesmanlike in a presidential candidate We feel however that it is not just to the honorable state of Maine which is entitled to have two thinking and voting members of the United States senate

Revolution Openly Avowed.

[From the Raleigh News.]

The object of this investigation is not simply to collect into durable form the evidence of frauds in the stolen states It is said that the complicity of President Hayes and Secretary Sherman will be clearly established If such shall be the case the impeachment of both these high officials is among the possibilities of the immediate future Indeed that would be a logical sequence of the investigation But whether in case of the impeachment and removal of Mr Hayes, Mr Tilden would be seated as president is a question to be considered We are disposed to think that Mr Tilden could secure the presidency only through judicial proceedings instituted under and by virtue of the saving clause in the electoral commission law

The Hand of Jacob and the Voice of Esau

[From the New York Tribune]

There is a tendency to overdo the business of protesting that Mr Tilden has nothing to do with the latest fraud movement He isn t so tremendously popular in his party that it is willing to turn about of its own accord and take the precise steps which he wishes most of all to have taken After declaring time and again that they would not attempt to [illegible] the president because it [illegible] would [illegible] Tilden s renomination the party [illegible] and make that attempt If the persuasive hand which has [illegible] not Mr Tilden s he is [illegible] commonly [illegible] his friends

One of Those Grover Loans

PORTLAND May [illegible] 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Had not Mr Brown state treasurer in his eagerness to capture a few votes attempted to palm off on a Portland audience a deliberate misstatement concerning the Grover loan he would have been spared the mortification of the positive proof as well as of his own confession

Mr Brown made no qualifications whatever when he authorized Col Kelly to denounce the charge as untrue He declared it to be false in every particular and asserted that the mortgage remained just as Grover executed it

Now we have confession that [illegible] it a payment had been made to William H [illegible] Who is William Hackleman Is he another agent of the board on a high salary collecting moneys on school fund account and not reporting to the treasurer for proper endorsement on the notes held If this money was paid and I do not deny but it was could it be possible that the intellect of Mr Brown has become so affected that he had forgot a questionable transaction with the governor of the state and president of the board of school land commissioners The citizens of Oregon are sick and tired of reckless extravagance and willful waste of public funds and I would suggest to Mr Brown that as he is the only member of the Grover dynasty in sight that he commence getting his house in order for his successor

ROLLO

Why the Fraud Cry is a Boomerang.

[From Harper s Weekly]

A mere expression of opinion upon the part of congress as to the presidential title is to be deprecated as a most dangerous precedent A congress which should deny the lawful right of a president to his position might be fairly expected to refuse to recognize him In the present case the whole question having been opened before the commission, and the commission, empowered by congress to exercise all its powers upon the subject, having decided by what limits of inquiry it was bound and its decision having been accepted and ratified by congress and the president having been constitutionally declared and inaugurated the refusal of a subsequent congress to recognize him as the lawful executive would be simple revolution and anarchy That is the common sense view which is undoubtedly held by the great mass of the people of the United States, and if the action of the present congress makes it an issue in the elections for the next congress those who hold that view will very willingly accept the contest

One Sensible Democratic Editor.

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer]

We trust that it is not the deliberate design of the Democrats in congress to reopen the presidential question There can be no rational expectation of unseating President Hayes The Democrats are still in congress who urged the passage of the electoral commission bill, which had little or no ground in the constitution no ground in equity and not a shadow of excuse in politics from the Democratic standpoint The presidential question has been once—and finally—tried before a tribunal which Democrats created There is no hope of reversing the decision of that tribunal To change it it would be necessary not only to go behind the returns but behind the law of the land The task found impossible before is doubly difficult now As it is not intelligently expected that President Hayes can be unseated the only motive for the introduction of the Potter resolution must be the design to make political capital Even for this purpose we cannot but think the policy a mistaken one

What they Propose

THURSDAY MORNING MAY 30 1878

A DESPERATE EXPEDIENT

When the bogus railroad bill was under discussion in the senate Mitchell tried to force an admission from the true friends of the enterprise that it was acceptable to the company But they knowing that such was not the case refused to make the admission Senator McMillan of Minnesota who was in Oregon last year and is known to be very friendly to the interests of our state said distinctly that he was not aware that the company had agreed to this bill but that he knew they had been called upon to submit to exactions in it to which no company should have submitted Senator McDonald also intimated the object of the onerous provisions must be to put the bill in such shape that the company would not comply with it and the road would become forfeited It was well understood therefore that the bill was not acceptable to the company The president of the company had agreed with the railroad committee to let it pass not because it was in any sense satisfactory, but simply in order that the dead-lock might be broken through some kind of action The board of directors immediately pronounced against the bill, and the true friends of the enterprise will not allow it to be reported to the house without proper amendment. So the matter stands now For nearly six months all efforts to get the bill forward had been baffled by Mitchell's action and the president of the company, misled by plausible statements and promises, consented that the subject be taken out of the committee on lands and given back into the hands of that on railroads. This was a great error on his part A traveler agrees to give up his money when a highwayman holds a pistol at his head and the species of consent which was given by the president of the company to this bill was exactly of like nature. The company, as soon as the matter can be reached in the house, will take measures to recover what was wrested from them in the senate But the chances are that no bill will be reported this session

The president of the company by reason of the partial agreement made with Mitchell in regard to the senate bill considers himself precluded from taking any action against it, but in the board of directors at a meeting held in New York on the 25th April, there was unanimous expression against the bill. A resolution was drawn up, which we have heretofore printed, setting forth the views of the board as against the bill It was supported in the most pronounced manner by every director, but the president stated that inasmuch as he had consented, though reluctantly, to let the bill pass, he would refrain from expression of opinion in favor of the resolution denouncing the bill though it was not thought fit at time to make a formal declaration of the resolution, the testimony that the directors unanimously expressed themselves in favor of it and against the bill is conclusive Frederick Billings, the largest stockholder in the company, and one of the directors, telegraphed on the 15th "The bill is a fraud The company will have nothing to do with it. The road can never be built under it Directors were unanimous in their condemnation of it at their last meeting.' Capt Ainsworth was present at the meeting referred to, and bears like testimony Billings, who is the leading man in the company in a note just received by THE OREGONIAN, says "Wright has pursued the wrong course He should have let Mitchell know that we would stand none of his trifling, and that we would stop right where we are rather than submit to his bill, which is visibly a bill to make political capital for himself"

These explanations render perfectly intelligible the dispatch (elsewhere printed), sent out by Jacobs of Washington territory beyond doubt at the instance of Mitchell, in the hope of affecting Monday's election The dispatch is fixed up for a purpose. It contains just a grain of truth, sufficient to give plausibility to an utter misrepresentation of the general facts. Wright's agreement with Mitchell, in the way we have described, to let the bill pass the committee and go to the senate for action, is paraded by Mitchell and Jacobs as proof that the company accept it. Both these politicians are struggling desperately to maintain credit with the people to whose interests they have been unfaithful, and this dispatch, which misrepresents the whole situation, is sent out here for publication as the last dodge that can be played before the election Wright is not urging the passage of the senate bill through the house. He does not desire its passage the entire board of directors, as Billings and Ainsworth both testify, expressed themselves against it, and the purpose, as information from numerous sources, including our own Washington correspondence and dispatches to other journals, reprinted by us from time to time, shows is to amend the bill in the house. The telegram from Jacobs is a misleading one, sent solely for political purposes It is like Mitchell's dispatch some time ago which asserted that his bill had passed the senate committee with only one dissenting voice, whereas shortly afterwards we printed an elaborate minority report against it signed by three members of the committee The telegram from Jacobs is simply a desperate expedient. It is fit to go with numerous other telegrams of like character the fallacious nature of which has been exposed repeatedly during the progress of this controversy. It is truth to say that the president of the company, in consequence of his quasi agreement with Mitchell, in regard to the bill, is in a somewhat difficult position He considers himself compromised by action which the company does not and cannot sanction and out of this situation springs the attempt on the part of Mitchell and Jacobs to convince the people of Oregon just before election, that the company favor a bill which they know would be worthless if passed which therefore they have determined to repudiate and which never will be permitted to become a law. Jacobs is perfectly conversant with the real situation, and so is Mitchell but anything will do till after election Transmission of this telegram at this time is equivalent to an open avowal that Mitchell is a candidate for re election, that the ticket in Multnomah he regards as his own and that he means to spare no effort to force himself on his party People will not be deluded by the expedients adopted There is overwhelming evidence that the company do not want this bill, and every person of intelligent judgment knows that the reason they do not want it is that the bill is not only burdensome to them but quite worthless Under all these circumstances it is effort wasted to try to persuade anybody that the company are satisfied with it and urging its enactment Why should they be satisfied with a bill which so embarrasses them and so curtails their expected resources that they can build no road? The country wants for a road all the aid that can be had, and even then the problem of a work so vast will be difficult and speedy success doubtful enough

LEAST EXTENT OF THE INJURY

In no case can we get a railroad bill of any kind this session On all sides this is granted Yet congress has been willing at any time for more than six months to pass a bill useful to the company and favorable to the country Had the smallest part of the effort which has been expended by the chairman of the senate railroad committee to obstruct and delay the enterprise been employed in urging a proper bill the whole matter would have been settled long ago Instead of being forced to wait for a year or for an indefinite period the country would now be witnessing active operations in pushing the road All needful concessions to Oregon and to Portland the company has been ready to make but it does not like to witness the virtual annihilation of its land grant through a bill which nominally proposes to extend and confirm it At best there is delay of a year This is the least possible injury that can result from Mitchell's course The greater loss may be utter failure for next year the chances of obtaining congressional action may not be so good Jacobs telegraphs that the passage of the bogus bill is likely to be obstructed by statements that the company will not have it No doubt of it that is precisely the object A bill of so worthless a character is not wanted either by the country or the company The country wants a bill which will assist the construction of a road and this will not It is not probable that the people of Oregon are reflecting with much satisfaction on the obvious fact that a bill would have passed long ago which would have opened the way for a railroad had it not been for the opposition of an Oregon senator whose position on the railroad committee gave him power to do what he has done

REAL BUSINESS

An important announcement is made respecting an enterprise for the construction of a system of narrow gauge railways to accommodate the country beyond the navigable waters of the Columbia In this undertaking there is a combination of capital which assures real results Since thirty five miles of rails will soon arrive it may be expected with confidence that work will speedily begin The Walla Walla road will be extended we may suppose, but we have no information as to details From a view of the needs of the country it would appear probable that a branch will be extended in the direction of Dayton and another into Umatilla county in our state It should not be long till Grande Ronde valley is reached The financial ability and position of the persons named are a guarantee of ample capital Here is an undertaking which though inferior in importance to that which is more prominently before our people, nevertheless will play no small part in the development of Eastern Oregon and Washington Portland, as the depot of the increased trade which will follow, will realize great advantages and receive new impulse of growth

A letter from Georgia to the Cincinnati Commercial refers to the largely increased representation of some of the southern states on account of black suffrage. Without negro suffrage Georgia, for instance would have five Democratic members but with it she has nine Democratic members Yet to elect all of these nine there were only polled a little over 162,000 votes And to elect only three members, Minnesota polled 120 000 votes That is to say, Minnesota, with a total congressional vote of 120 000 has but three members while Georgia, with a total congressional vote of 162 000 has nine members!

Charles Nordhoff, who has been studying the Chinese question in California expresses the opinion that the Chinaman is doing for the poor whites of that state what the black slave did for the poor whites of the south—with this difference however that while the poor of the south did not know the cause of their misery and degradation and fought to sustain it, the laboring classes of California have a very lively appreciation of the disabilities under which they are placed and propose to remove them

Congressman Cook of Georgia said of Blair's hobby, "I think the author of this measure a (blank) fool' House of Tennessee thought it 'the most idiotic measure that could be invented and ought to be good evidence that its originator is non compos mentis Reagan of Texas declared it as crazy a scheme as could be invented" And when it came up on Potter's resolution these men all voted for it Is the tyranny of King Caucus responsible for such tergiversations

---

Yesterday Mr L B Stearns Mitchell candidate for the legislature, in the discussion in Willamette precinct, tried to speak with great severity of his opponent Mr C W Gay whom he said had become an Independent and forsaken his party But Mr Stearns was himself an Independent four years ago unless we are misinformed Deserter and renegade" are words which, if not rightly used, lose their meaning as other words do under like conditions

The Potter resolution for reopening the presidential question creates no excitement, and but little interest at the least The whole thing is regarded as too late, impracticable and unwise in every point of view Even the Democrats, according to the Chicago Times say it is better to let the thing stand as it is and to try the battle over again in 1880

Though a resolution has passed the house extending the power of the Potter investigating committee to any state where there may be well grounded allegations of fraud, no doubt the committee will decide that grounds for investigation exists in no other states than where they wish to investigate—Florida and Louisiana

CITY.

THAT OPEN BAR.—We were spoken to yesterday about the item relative to the "headquarters bar," said to be in operation in Odd Fellows' building. Lest it be supposed the object was to intimate that this was sanctioned by the directors of the building it is proper to state that the only purpose simply was to designate the place, and we find in fact that said free whisky has been flowing not in the Odd Fellows' building but in apartments in the rear of it, the entrance to which is through the building by the main stairway. This is the plain, unvarnished fact though it is intimated that the free bar since the appearance of the item of yesterday has been shut down. As to this, however we are not positively advised. No reflection whatever was intended on the order and no man of sense would take it so. Of course the order is not responsible for the vagaries of one of its members. Many of the sensible members of the order have expressed to us satisfaction because of the publication of the item which they say was a proper one and has served a good purpose. The only one who has been making a noise about it so far as we know, professed great indignation that it should have been stated that liquor was dispensed on those premises, yet it is well known that for years a part of the property was rented and used as a saloon. In this case though the liquor was not dispensed in the building the right of way to the place was through the main entrance. We are thus particular in stating these facts, without flourish or malice in order that it may be well understood that the item was published with proper intention and has had a useful result. Yesterday there was quiet in the hall and at the entrance of the building, where for two days previously there had been a most annoying lot of noisy free drinkers, working up enthusiasm for the Mitchell campaign.

CONDITION OF MRS BRODECK.—Mrs H H Brodeck, who was thrown from a wagon at Vancouver last Sunday and severely injured, still lies at the Sisters' Hospital in that city. Her injuries are of a serious character but not regarded as necessarily dangerous. Mr Brodeck was not driving the team when the accident occurred, as has been stated. Mr and Mrs. Brodeck had been out in the country several miles from Vancouver and were returning in an express wagon belonging to a Mr Crist, who was driving. The team was a high spirited fractious one. On reaching Vancouver, the horses took fright at a dog which came out barking at them. Being large and powerful animals, Mr Crist could not control them. After running a short distance the vehicle was capsized and Mrs Brodeck and an infant in her arms at the time were both pitched out. They struck violently against a picket fence, the child sustaining some bruises about the face and the mother a deep gash on one side of the head and various severe contusions about the body and limbs. At first it was thought that the child was killed, but it soon rallied and is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Mrs. Brodeck is unable to leave her bed and will probably not be strong enough to come to this city for a week or longer. Mr. Brodeck speaks in [illegible] terms of the kindness of the Sisters of the hospital. Under all the circumstances it seems wonderful that the mother and child escaped with their lives.

CAMP MEETINGS.—The Advocate says: The camp meeting to be held at Bellfountain camp ground on Monroe charge, will commence on Tuesday, June 20th. Ministers and brethren of other christian churches are cordially invited to attend. Though the 4th quarterly meeting for McMinnville circuit is appointed by the presiding elder, very properly to be held on the camp ground on the 2d Sabbath (June 22, 23), yet the camp meeting will commence on Thursday, June 19th and hold on till the third Sabbath, and if the prospect will justify, continue the following week.

DANGEROUS CONDITION.—T. E. L Logan, the young man who was severely injured during the fire at the American Exchange [illegible] lies in a critical condition. His injuries, it is feared, are of an internal nature and the results cannot be determined. [illegible] is a member of No 1's, and his family being in limited circumstances, a subscription paper was circulated yesterday morning among his fellow firemen, and in a few hours the sum of $80 was raised, which sum will be judiciously expended in his behalf.

[illegible].—Yesterday evening while the excursionists were on the way to this city a fellow who, to act smart, called "man overboard." This produced quite a temporary panic among the crowd, the boat stopped as quickly as possible and a [illegible]. However, it was discovered the alarm was a false one, and the excitement soon subsided. It could not be ascertained who started the cry, or he might have had a row on his hands.

IMPROVING.—A few days ago a letter was received here which states that Mr George [illegible], who was seriously hurt in Wasco county recently by being thrown from a horse is doing well considering the severe nature of his injuries and the hardship of great delay of medical attendance which he underwent after the accident. The bones of his leg are uniting rapidly, and in about two weeks he expects to be brought to this city.

[illegible].—A camp-meeting will be held at the [illegible] school house, in Multnomah county, in the vicinity of Pleasant Home, P O, [illegible] miles east of East Portland, on the [illegible] valley road, of the German Baptist [illegible] church, to commence on the [illegible] of June 28th, to continue over Sunday, June 30th. Services in English and German. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

[illegible].—For the accommodation of [illegible] the steamer Vancouver will make a trip to day from Portland. She will leave for Vancouver this morning at 7 A M and [illegible] 9 A M. She will leave Vancouver [illegible] at 3 P. M and return at 5 P M. [illegible] and staff will visit Vancouver to be present at the decoration ceremonies.

[illegible].—The Sunday school children of [illegible] chapel will meet this morning at Flanders' wharf at a quarter past 5 sharp to accompany the Oregon City school to the [illegible] picnic. For the trip and return [illegible]; adults 50 cents.

[illegible] BATTALION.—The members of Ellison Battalion No. 1, I O O F, are requested to meet at the Odd Fellows hall to day (Thursday), at 12.30 P. M, sharp, for the purpose of participating in the decoration exercises.

[illegible].—The most enjoyable occasion of the season will come off on Saturday of this week in the form of an excursion from Eugene to Portland and return the same day [illegible] to aid the church.

DIVINE SERVICE.—Service will be held this (Ascension Day) at 9 o clock in St [illegible] chapel, with the administration of the holy communion.

K. OF P.—Members who propose to turn out will meet at Castle Hall at 12 o'clock to day in uniform for parade.

AMUSEMENTS

Last evening a very fair audience was present at the New Market theater to witness the repetition of "[illegible] Girofla," by the Rose [illegible] Company. The opera was rendered in a very satisfactory manner. This evening the very entertaining comic opera of "Madame Angot's Daughter," will be produced.

PICNICS.

The Sabbath school at Hall street propose to have a picnic a week from next Saturday. They will take a boat ride to Vancouver starting about 8 o clock A M.

One of the most enjoyable and successful picnics given the present season was the one which came off yesterday under the management of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. At 9 o clock the steamer [illegible] to which was attached the commodious barge [illegible] left her wharf with a large crowd of ladies and gentlemen on board. With streamers gaily fluttering in the morning air and amid the strains of enlivening music the steamer turned her prow northward and passed the city front, and was soon lost to view. Soon after leaving here dancing was commenced on board the barge and kept up without intermission until the excursionists reached Vancouver. That place was reached about 11 o clock when a number of persons were taken on board. The steamer continued on up the river to [illegible] grove which is located about [illegible] miles above Vancouver near the mouth of the Washougal. The ground was reached at [illegible] and soon after the amusements and games were inaugurated.

Boat Race—Won by E D Crandall, prize one case wine donated by E Martin & Co.

After enjoying themselves in various ways the whistle was sounded and at 6 o clock the steamer started homeward. On the way here dancing was indulged in until all were tired. During the time occupied in reaching the city a number of songs were rendered by Messrs Dolling Henderson and Fay which added in no small measure to the pleasure of the occasion. Near the hour of 10 o clock the steamer hove in sight. While passing along in front of the city a number of rockets and Roman candles were sent up which presented a very handsome appearance and announced far and wide the arrival of the excursionists. The committee of arrangements—Messrs M Phelan J J Winters J J Meagher, J Higgins and John Finnen—deserve much credit for the successful and satisfactory manner in which they managed the affair. Nothing transpired during the day to mar the pleasures of the excursionists. The grounds are said to be delightful, near the river and a landing can be easily and safely effected. There is a large platform laid very suitable for dancing.

VERY IMPORTANT ENTERPRISE.

It is authoritatively announced that arrangements have been made between the Walla Walla and Columbia River Railroad Company and Messrs J C Ainsworth, R R Thompson, S G Reed, W S Ladd C H Tilton and Dr D S Baker for the purpose of building a general system of narrow gauge railroads to meet the requirements of the grain producing country bordering on the upper Columbia and Snake rivers and that the Walla Walla and Columbia River Railroad becomes a part of the new enterprise and that the work of extending the same will be commenced as soon as practicable.

It is also stated on same authority that in the month of July or August next there will arrive at Portland thirty five miles of steel rails with locomotives, rolling stock etc for the same enterprise. This indicates a great extension of arrangements by a very strong association of capitalists to extend facilities of transportation to the rich fields and valleys of the Upper Columbia country and will, within a short time augment greatly the business of Portland.

RAILROADS AND POLITICS

SPEECHES ON THE SITUATION [illegible] SENATOR MITCHELL [illegible] FULLY SHOWN

A large audience assembled at Oro Fino Hall last night to listen to addresses as announced by Col W H Effinger and ex Senator Kelly upon the issues generally but especially upon the railroad situation and its bearing upon the strictly political questions which the people of this county will be called upon to decide next Monday. Both the speakers and the audience refrained from that heat and passionate effervescence which usually characterizes political gatherings on the eve of the election but seemed to realize the weight and importance of the questions under consideration. The meeting was called to order by Alex Meyer [illegible] who stated that Mr [illegible] of Walla Walla who had expected to be present and speak was called suddenly to San Francisco. He introduced

W H EFFINGER

Who said he was naturally reluctant to make speeches on political subjects and had [illegible] refused to appear but [illegible] as a political speaker. Primarily his object was to advocate the election of the citizens ticket though his remarks would be devoted principally to the railroad question. The fight for the Democratic and citizens ticket in this county was a fight for a railroad to Oregon and a fight against those who under some influence or other [illegible] thwarted the only reasonably probable chance of our obtaining such a road for many years. He referred to the advice of Republican politicians in this city to Democrats as to the kind of diet the latter should take and said when great and pressing interests were at stake and the common good [illegible] it was not an uncommon thing to see especially in these latter days Republicans and Democrats acting together joining hand in hand to establish a common principle or to defeat a common enemy. Such a fight had been made in the congress of the United States and is now being made in Multnomah county. The two ideas a national and a federal government both having foundation in the constitution of our country had existed since the government was formed and upon them party lines had been drawn and party issues brought out but when Mr Hayes was inaugurated as president to the disappointment of the Republicans and the surprise of the Democrats he began to carry out principles and to enforce a policy of which the Democracy had always been advocates. Party lines and party rules were thus ignored by the standard bearer of the Republican party, and when the financial question came up in the senate of the nation a few months ago it was found that Republicans and Democrats were willing to unite upon it. The Mitchell ticket in this county is in the interest of a great non resident corporation that would destroy all hopes of a railroad to Oregon and it was a public right it was the duty of the people to rise above party to defeat the efforts of this corporation the Central Pacific Railroad Company to bottle up Oregon forever and hold the state tributary to that company and to the city of San Francisco.

The speaker then adverted to the great railroad questions which had been before the congress of the United States and read from the speech of Senator Merrill upon the railway sinking fund bill the statement of the contributions to the Central and Union Pacific companies by the government showing that in the first place the United States had given to those companies nearly 30 000 000 acres of land much of it very valuable for its mineral wealth and nearly all of it suitable for agricultural purposes the government had also guaranteed and is now paying the interest upon more than $ 7 000 000 worth of the bonds of the companies and had paid over $ 6 000 000 of such and by the time the bonds matured the companies under the law would owe the United States the enormous sum of $[illegible] and it was plain to be seen that the companies at that time could step out and have nothing from which this vast debt could be collected. Such was the condition of affairs when senators began to look about to see what provision could be made to secure the government in its rights, and the bill known as the Pacific railroad sinking fund bill was introduced by Mr Thurman to compel these gigantic corporations to provide a fund from which this great obligation to the government might be paid at maturity. Of course the power of the great companies was brought to bear to defeat such legislation and the senate chamber swarmed with their paid lobbyists. In such a crisis Thurman of Ohio and Edmunds of Vermont Bayard of Delaware and Booth of California stood side by side and locked shields in defense of the rights of the people against the corporations who sought to evade their obligations to the government while Mitchell of Oregon Sargent of California and Stanley Matthews the political nondescript from Ohio worked together in behalf of these corporations. It was no treason to the party for Thurman and Edmunds or Booth and Bayard to act unitedly for the common good and for the maintenance of great interests. When a man is found voting as Mr Mitchell did on that bill though we might not have the tangible proofs that he is corrupted we may reasonably suspect his motives. Mr Mitchell had been foisted into power by the political machinations of a railroad corporation in our own state and though that corporation has since passed into clean hands he thought perhaps some other railroad power might help to re elect him.

The speaker then reviewed at considerable length the history of the legislation in regard to the North Pacific railroad and Mr Mitchell's action in regard to it ably replying to a recent speech on the subject which has been sent to Oregon by the cord as a campaign document. He showed that the senate as it had been two years ago was friendly to the extension of time asked by the Northern Pacific and read from the speeches of Senators Eaton Lamar and Morrill to prove that these gentlemen were even more favorable to the bill than Mr Mitchell himself. In alluding to the embarrassing restrictions which Mr Mitchell was striving to have put in the bill Mr Eaton said:

Mr President do not let us make a harsh trade with these people. Let us do what is just and right. Do not crowd them; do not put upon them a duty that they will not be able to perform so that they will come here two years hence and ask for an extension of time to be given them. A great deal has been said by my friend from Oregon with very great emphasis. Senators have been told that the company have agreed to these conditions and the question is asked why should the senator from Connecticut stand up here and object to a matter that the company have agreed to? I have known people to agree to things sometimes when they were told if you do not do this worse will come. I have heard of agreements of that character. I do not say this is one of them. I am not about to say that this is one of them but I am about to say that the condition of that company forbids me to believe that they can go on and construct this hundred miles of railroad.

Mr Morrill said:

Now I desire to inquire of the senator who has this bill in charge as I discover by the report made that the committee have reduced the number of acres of land that was heretofore granted to the extent of eleven million acres what additional burdens have been placed upon this road by which it may be possible as it seems to me that the road may not be completed and if the senator in charge will explain how much more this company has got to build in addition to the original main stem and what the conditions are in relation to any other road taking possession of this grant provided the Northern Pacific company shall fail to complete the road and what the conditions are in relation to a combination of roads to take place hereafter I should be very glad to hear from him. It seems to me they have imposed large burdens upon this company much greater than were contained in the original grant while they have reduced the original grant as asserted in the report by the sum of eleven million acres.

Mr Lamar said:

While I am on my feet I will state that as the chairman of the committee on Pacific railroads in the other house I had occasion to investigate this question as to the extension of the time for the construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad and I became satisfied that it was a measure demanded alike by justice propriety and policy. The parties who make application for this relief are tens of thousands of people living in twenty states of this Union who subscribed their means for the construction of this road. The disasters of 1873 and other causes produced a suspension of work. If there was any mismanagement these parties were the victims of that mismanagement and of its authors. I had some objection to loading this bill with other conditions than those which provide for a simple extension of relief but as its provisions are acceptable to those who are considered best advised upon the subject I shall co operate with them and I trust there will be no opposition to the passage of the bill, as it is in my opinion so meritorious and so slight is the objection.

So Col Effinger proceeded to show from Mr Mitchell's own campaign document that these and other leading senators were all favorable to the bill and while they were desirous of passing it in such a shape as the company could build the road under its provisions the senator from Oregon stood almost alone except as he was backed by Sargent and other satellites of the Central Pacific in hampering the bill with such restrictions as would forever prevent the further construction of this great thoroughfare from the east to our state. He believed with favorable legislation the company would have built the road but if those who ought to represent our interest persist in their attempts to place obstructions in its way the road would not be built. We need a railroad the speaker said and he would have preferred the P D & S L but we had no show to get any but the Northern Pacific and our senator had blasted our prospects of that and the people would hold him responsible, and his telegrams sent out here for the purpose of deceiving the people on the eve of an election would not save him. Much else was said by Mr Effinger to the point and his speech was received with evident interest and satisfaction by the audience which was composed as one could see at a glance in a large part of thinking men who were determined to investigate this important subject. The speaker was loudly cheered during and at the close of his remarks.

HON J K KELLY

was then introduced by the chairman and said as the O S N Co had been very extensively abused in this campaign and he supposed they could stand it, he would just say that that company was an Oregon corporation. It paid its taxes here. It employed none but citizens and paid current wages to them. It employed no Chinamen. It costs more money to build boats and to run them and to handle eight times all the freight that went to points above Celilo. He merely said what he had because he had heard so much said of this company recently. As had Col Effinger he branded as false the charge that had been made that he was paid to speak for that company.

He reviewed Mitchell's course in regard to our railroad interests and showed how the latter had been recreant to Oregon interests in this respect. When the bill for the extension of time for completion of the Northern Pacific was introduced and passed in the senate in 1876 Mr Mitchell voted for it but said not a single word for or against it. Then the election was far off and he did not care to serve his double purpose of favoring the Central Pacific and manufacturing campaign arguments at so early a day. The bill passed the senate then very easily because the general sentiment was as it always has been in its favor, but Mr Mitchell never said a word about what he now claims are such necessary restrictions. He was content merely to vote for what others were doing to give the company further time. The friends of Mitchell claim that he has done much for Oregon. We will see what he has done. One thing in these claims is that he secured the appropriation of $[illegible] for the locks at the Cascades. To show how false this was it was only necessary to say what every one almost knows that all bills providing for appropriations have their origin in the house and principally to Hon L F Lane is the credit due for this bill as to his efforts aided by Mr Reagan of Texas who promised to help him all in his power out of the old friendship which he entertained for Lane's father. Mr Mitchell had nothing to do with getting the bill through the house though he voted for it in the senate. As another proof of Mr Mitchell's fidelity to Oregon interests it was claimed by his friends that he has secured positions in Washington for citizens of Oregon by which they draw $[illegible] a year from the public treasury. The speaker thought the amount was overstated as we had but few citizens in Washington who were drawing pay from the government. It is true there were some. Judge Upton gets about $[illegible] Mr Ogden was a clerk in some of the departments then there was Judge Hoffman and Mr Crandall. Some of the drawing was perhaps a little like draw poker: they always drew out more than they put in and if they did get $[illegible] it did not benefit us out here much as they only circulated here when they came out on an electioneering tour. It was also asserted that he had secured the appointment of a citizen of Oregon to represent the nation in a foreign country. The speaker supposed this referred to little Owen Denny. But it was the first time a consul to a third rate Chinese port had been called a representative of the nation. That honor was only accorded to ambassadors.

In conclusion Col Kelly advised Democrats and all others who desired a railroad for Oregon who would see the state independent of the Central Pacific railroad and no longer tributary to California to unite in the effort now being made to send a man to the senate who will not thwart our interest and obstruct by hostile attempts every measure calculated to place the state out of its present isolated situation.

Our space forbids us to add to this very imperfect synopsis of Col K's remarks which were interesting throughout. As he closed he was loudly applauded the band played Yankee Doodle and the crowd dispersed.

The Doctor makes a specialty of nervous debility exhausted vitality etc etc and belongs to one of the most reputable and distinguished firms in San Francisco

An Astonishing Fact.

A large proportion of the American people are to day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism take the advice of druggists and your friends and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedy relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all Druggists on the Western Continent

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 30, 1878.

The Newly Wedded in Washington.

[Letter to the Boston Journal.]

Washington city is fast becoming the chosen resort where newly wedded couples come to enjoy the honeymoon, and it is seldom that the Ebbitt House, which is hymen's favorite stopping place, is without several couple. They all labor under the happy delusion that their recent nuptials are a profound secret to all the world besides themselves, and yet their billing and cooing attracts the attention even of the obsequious waiters. The bridegrooms are always enchanted to introduce "my wife" with a glance of touching tenderness, and she endeavors to answer to her new name with alacrity. Alas and alas! It is on these wedding tours that incompatibilities of temper, differences of opinion, fretfulness, and above all weariness of each other, begin to show themselves, and the week at Washington is but the prelude to a married life in which indifference will perhaps rank almost as a virtue.

The Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief, just before he left his army made a speech, in which he said: "Children, be patient but a few days longer, you shall certainly return home; even though there should be a war with England, the guard will be dispatched to St. Petersburg. We have soldiers enough here to handle the English. We do not seek the war, but if England will, we are ready, we are prepared."

Col. Kingsbury of Chicago was killed at Sharpsburg. In 1871 his estate was appraised at $1,250,000. There was one heir, a boy. In seven years, lawyers and guardians have so managed the estate that the heir's boarding-school bill cannot be paid.

A shrewd Democrat at Washington says Thurman always runs well as a presidential candidate two years before the convention meets. Hendricks has a similar habit. It amuses them, however, and does no harm.

English Crops and Markets.

LONDON, May 28.—The Mark Lane Express says the agricultural outlook is decidedly more favorable than three weeks ago, but unless dry forcing weather comes quickly, hope for abundant cereal harvest must be abandoned. Grass is everywhere abundant and the hay crop will be very large. Reports of the condition of the growing crops in America and other grain producing countries, added to the quiescent state of politics, has rendered the wheat trade remarkably dull and almost stagnant. Notwithstanding adverse weather and light foreign shipments for London, trade has been continually lethargic, and the amount of business so insignificant as to furnish no index of the cause. Prices of English wheat at country markets declined a shilling, but farmers were not eager to sell. Much of the inactivity has doubtless been owing to suspense about the eastern question. As a few days will probably determine the course of affairs, a movement in trade, even if downward, may be expected soon. Maize quiet and lower, in consequence of heavy American shipments for the week ending May 18th. Floating cargo trade for wheat was dull at former prices. There have been few arrivals at ports of call. Maize yielded 1s@1s 6d again, owing to American shipments. Sales of English wheat last week, 41,213 qrs at 51s 1d, against 27,197 qrs at 68s 9d for same time last year. Imports into the kingdom for the week ending May 18th, 983,795 cwts wheat, and 145,998 cwts flour.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, May 29.—Wool, demand fair, but prices still rule low and unsatisfactory, and responsible buyers find it easy to obtain concessions, as there is at present no prospect of a favorable change. Manufacturers appear more anxious to stop machinery and curtail production than to stock up to any extent with wool. New wool arriving faster with slow sale. The stock of old wool on hand is also quite large. California is selling at 20@28c for spring and 18@20 for fall; super and pulled is selling at 28@30c, with an occasional lot of very choice super at an advance on the latter rate.

California Crops.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Crop reports telegraphed from all parts of the state do not materially change the prospects as indicated by previous reports. The crop of wheat in the northern portion of the state will be not more than average, while in the south the yield will generally be almost unprecedented.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Difficult Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

DR. BRENAN has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them; they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.

Office, 53 First street, over McCormick's Franklin Bookstore.
